Touring St. Pius X

Approaching the Convent of St. Pius X our glance stops at a restful, shaded corner of greens.

A closer inspection we notice the starting of a fern corner

The main entrance of our beloved St. Pius X High School

"Senior Stairs" so-called because the use of these is a senior privilege—for their use only (and faculty, of course)

Arriving at the head of the stairs is a beautiful hall or rotunda off of which is the chapel

OUR CHAPEL

With purple drapes we are reminded that our life will be richer with the little sacrifices we make

Leaving the Chapel we walk down the stairs to the room where the students are taught all the subjects now to use an open library.

Our return trip down the hall gives us a closer look at the upstairs hall set against such a beautiful background as that of the pines.

Back downstairs we stop in the Reading Reference room newly equipped with study sections.

Every library should have such a comfortable nook as ours.

View from the library is one of our exhibitions. The Art and Music room. The rest of the new building is for the school.

The ante room to the Principal's office, Not a very popular room with the students

Recreational area.

This year has seen the completion of the furnishings of the model home in connection with Home Economics Department. With the exception of the sofa and the matching chair the Sisters in charge and the classes have redone furnishings acquired through the Texas Surplus Agency. Tremendous time and energy have gone into this project; hence our desire to show them to you so that you, too, might enjoy them.

The first view which one sees on entering our model home. The window looks out over the patio off the cafeteria

Our dining area—leading into the kitchen

These are our masterpieces which we acquired after many, many hours of hard labor.

Dedication

We the DEL SARTO Staff of 1961, desire to dedicate this edition of our yearbook to St. Dominic and his Order.

It is indeed fitting that this edition, which has as its theme "Truth Versus Communism" should be dedicated to a man and his followers, who have done so much toward the spreading of Christian truth, the natural enemy of communism. One cannot think of St. Thomas of Aquinas and his SUMMA THEOLOGICA nor the scientific discoveries of St. Albert the Great without realizing the great work rendered by the Dominican Order.

At this point we wish to extend our most grateful thanks to the Dominican Sisters and Fathers for their most precious of gifts to us—the fire of knowledge which they have so skillfully inkindled in us.

In conclusion, we offer our prayers to God, beseeching Him to shower His blessings upon the Dominicans and their undertakings. ✍

VERITAS

Foreword

It has been the aim of the DEL SARTO Staff to demonstrate truth as the nucleus of an atom with all other virtues revolving about it like electrons. Our secondary goal has been to illustrate truth as the natural foundation for all arguments against the leftist undercurrents in our civilization. Instilled in us through such fields as education, religion, and science, the virtue of truth will ultimately be the bayonet which decapitates the viperous head of atheism.

Truth

The truth is important. It is a privilege to speak the truth freely, and an honor to be called truthful. Truth, in itself, is the basis of all the virtues, and therefore, may not be considered as an insignificant glimmer among the lights of Broadway. It is a virtue that makes a country strong and if America is to be strong it must be virtuous. As long as this young nation practices the virtue of truth she will remain powerful. If truth is neglected, America will crumble, and, like the Roman Empire, it will become only dust upon and out of which new empires will be built.

SENIORS NOW, SENIORS GONE,
BUT OUR MEMORIES WILL LIVE ON.
OUR HEARTS ARE YOUNG, KNOWING THE FUN,
WE'VE HAD ALL THROUGH THESE YEARS.

WE WILL FIGHT FOR THE BLACK AND WHITE,
TILL OUR DYING DAY.
ST. PIUS HIGH, WE'LL NEVER FORGET YOU,
AS WE GO WITH GOD ON OUR MARCHING WAY.

SENIOR CLASS, HERE AT LAST, CAN THIS BE TRUE?
TO YOU, DEAR SCHOOL, WE OWE SO MUCH.
TO YOU SO TRUE AND GRAND

Senior Mass and Communion

Assumption Church

May 18, 1961

Aside from the glimmer of the prom and hustle of graduation day the event we shall always remember the most is this important day the day of our Senior Mass and Communion. We shall be eternally grateful to our Sisters for arranging this beautiful Mass and to Father John Tortorice who offered the Holy Sacrifice for us the Seniors of St. Pius X High School.

The Greatest Beginning for our future life'

Greetings

Revered Faculty, Guests, and Classmates—

As Salutatorian of the class, it is my honor to welcome you to our Class Night exercises. We are sincerely happy to have you with us.

I think that it would be fitting to use as an example of my subject matter a very recent and important event. On Friday, May 5, a young United States Astronaut, Allen Shepard, was sent into space from Cape Canaveral. We are all familiar with the results of that action, but I am not here today to discuss it. I wish, however, to look behind the outstanding feat and into the purposes for that accomplishment. There are many reasons hovering on the outside—prestige, glory—but only one really noteworthy motivation—TRUTH. This is the really important quality in life, be it religious, scientific, or personal, that is being sought by all persons, everywhere, at every moment. We, in the graduating class of 1961, have been shown the way to seek out this valuable gem, TRUTH, and recognize it for what it is. Most of us, for four years, have been under the guidance of the Dominican shield, which proudly boasts the motto Veritas, which means TRUTH. We have been shown the way to search for the TRUTH, but this is a task that rests not only with us but with every human being in existence. Man has been given the ability to reason, and it is his privilege and duty to use that God-given talent to separate right from wrong, good from evil, truth from untruth, or truth from propaganda.

I have heard it said by many adults that the youth of today have life too easy. In some aspects this is true, but in other instances it has no basis. We are growing up in surroundings of a world in constant tension, unrest, and the very imminent possibility of a nuclear war. It is at times like this that we must fight our way through the maze of ideas that are "up for grabs." It is now that the truth reaches one of its most crucial tests—burn brightly and be sought after, or be lost in a mountain of false notions. These dreams all contain just enough truth to make them seem appealing to those who are not mentally mature enough to see the overall picture, rather than just what they want to see. This is the confusion of ideas from which we must ferret out TRUTH. When obstructed by a problem, be it world-shaking or small, it is well to remember the simple principle that there are at least two sides to every story. Those points must be studied, measured, weighed, and decided upon. Then and only then is a conclusion reached. Then, and only then, if our investigation has run a true course with the help of God, do we have the TRUTH.

Our search for the truth is never ending. It is one of the reasons that we have been put on this earth. Find the TRUTH, nurture its spark, believe it strongly, profess it proudly, and in it you will have a truly rare and valuable prize.

Thank you.

"How do you do, Mother"

Juniors

Truth is the essence of a true scientist. It is the core of scientific endeavor. Tireless research workers devote their lifetimes in quest of the truths of nature. In unearthing the secrets of the universe they discover truth, hidden by the simplicity of God's all perfect plan, as the basis of their work. They must possess the virtue themselves for it is an indispensable requisite in reporting their findings accurately. Nature shields her own and only through truth will man overcome the barriers of abuse and exploitation.

Sophomores and Freshmen

In these high school years we gain truth through the world of literature. Shakespeare's England, O. Henry's and Mark Twain's America, and Charles Dickens' France are all settings in which we learn the principles of this the "Liberating Virtue." Nature also imparts to us her story through the media of Robert Frost. Poetry, The story, the lyric, ballad, or epic; the story, short or full-length novel or play, meant to cause tears and or laughter, all contain something of the truth. Our literature is not censored rather it is chosen to show us what will make us free—the truth!

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Another year has drawn to a close. A year that has advanced us a step farther toward our goal in life. Through our accomplishments it has been a year filled with a purpose. Whether or not we realize it, this primary purpose is to find happiness. Here, at St. Pius, our ideals in life and character development are well directed by our good teachers through the foundation of a Christian education. What better way is there to achieve our purpose and find happiness? Our Catholic education is truly something to be cherished and therefore to be protected as well.

To the faculty and students of St. Pius, my sincere thanks for your contributions to the progress of our Alma Mater and to each of you I wish the best of everything that life has to offer and may God be with you always.

Annual Retreat

January 21-23, 1961
Juniors and Seniors

Retreat Master,
Rev. George Welch,
O.P.

Father Welch does not try to make us believe that everything that we do is right because we want to think that it is, but he tries to show us the importance of looking at ourselves and thinking of our eternal life.

Some of the seniors, Eileen Payne, Anna Marie Larke, and Gary Abramski, taking advantage of the Sacrament of Penance.

Each morning at Mass we had the privilege of receiving Our Lord in Holy Communion.

Each day at eleven thirty the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass was offered. What better way to prepare for here and hereafter.

It is the power of reason and the power to think has set him apart from the animal. Through this power man has advanced from the condition of a brute to the condition of a soul. Today the man of the 20th Century is a soul.

It is the power of reason and the power to think that has set him apart from the animal. In the ideal use of reason--the search for God. In this regard, some countries go so far as to forbid this search. These countries use all the means at their disposal to keep the soul from finding the truth while neglecting the soul.

As the power of reason and the power to think has set him apart from the animal. We must not forget that man is a soul. He must find this truth through reason. This means is more powerful and lasting than other means. Man must end his search for truth with God. INFINITE TRUTH.

The Papal Guards were organized this year for the first time. Their main purpose was to be a cheering section for the football games. It was their duty to escort the team to the field before each of the home games and to lead the cheers of the student body throughout the game. They were to be the "loudspeakers" for the cheerleaders. The corps was open to all girls throughout the high school and there was a good representation from each of the classes. Linda Gould, a senior, was chosen as the first girl to serve as the Commander-in-Chief.

Favorites

In our years at St. Pius X we have studied the history of our country and we have learned what it takes to become useful citizens of our country. In comparison with our freedom to become successful citizens, we are inclined to take a telescopic view of Communism as though it were something vague and far away from us. But is it? We, our country's new citizens, cannot stand back hesitating to fight this imposing system of government which abolishes the free rights of men. There is no justice in this way of life, and no truth. "Truth," the basis of our Catholic training, will make men free. Let us begin now, upon entering the world, to spread truth in an all-out effort to stop the deceit of Communism and mend the damage already done to those whom God intended to be free.

TRUTH IN RELIGION

Of the many pathways which lead us to truth, the one winding through our religion will take us the closest in our search.

Truth, what is it? Truth is that which is, or reality. This reality must be understood for our eternal destiny depends upon it. Because reality cannot be seen by mortal eyes man goes to religion to view the truth through its God-like eyes.

Catholic education is an education in reality. The Catholic Church makes the priceless truth the core of our curriculum.

May we be forever grateful for our educational opportunities, for the ideals inspired by our Catholic educators, and for receiving the promise, through religion, of a life of honor, of happiness, of truth.
